DAILY GAZETTE.

The Battle of Mount Zion.

Correspondence of the St. Louis Democrat.
Camp McClellan, North Missouri, Sturgeon, Dec. 28.

One of the sharpest battles of the war was fought about eighteen miles from this place to-day. Col. Birge, commanding his regiment of sharpshooters, had learned through his spies that a rebel camp was located at a place called Mount Zion Meeting House, in Boone county. Gen. Prentiss having come to this place yesterday with about three hundred cavalry, under the command of Col. Glover, he accordingly organized a command of five companies of sharpshooters, under Col. Birge, and two hundred cavalry, under Col. Glover, and moved towards the rebel camp. Arriving within about a mile, Gen. Prentiss ordered Col. Glover to attack a detachment of about one hundred which had taken position in a lane. He did so with great gallantry, killing a number, and taking several prisoners. The others fled to camp.

The order of battle was now assumed.—Col. Birge, with three companies of his command, advanced through the field, taking the left, and joined the force of Col. Glover, while Gen. Prentiss held positoin with a reserve of sharpshooters and a portion of cavalry. The attack was commenced in full force. The fire from the whole rebel line was terrific upon the right wing. For a moment our column wavered and fell back. Col. Birge observing this, rode into the most perfect storm of leaden hail that was ever met on battle field, calling upon the men to rally. Col. Glover, coming up with Maj. Temple, and uniting with Col. Birge, soon rallied the whole line, and the fight became terrible. Capt. Boyd, advancing from the right wing, poured in from the rifles at every fire messengers of death. Col. Birge, with a daring that could not be excelled, led on the left wing. He soon saw the enemy on the right giving way, and, sounding the cry of victory, the whole line rushed forward, and the rebels fled in every direction. Col. Birge pursued them, with Capt. Boyd, for two miles, killing four and taking five prisoners.

The rebel battle ground—what a sight! After they had taken away before they fled seven wagon loads, it was then completely covered with dead and wounded. The rebels had taken chosen grounds in the woods, where cavalry could not operate. Col. Glover, however, dismounted his cavalry, and led them forward with his usual bravery. The coolness and bravery of Col. Birge, in rallying his men in the midst of a perfect tornado of bullets, is deserving of all the praise due to a gallant soldier, and what is more for him, during the three hours the battle raged, he never left his position in advance of the line, cheering his men on.

The rebels lost in killed, wounded and missing, not less than one hundred and fifty. Ninety horses were taken, and a load of arms, saddles and all their camp equipage. Our loss was eight or nine killed and about twenty-six wounded.

Jeff. Thompson's Exploit at Commerce —A Patriotic Woman.

On Sunday afternoon last, the mail steamer City of Alton came near falling into the hands of Jeff. Thompson's rebel gang at Commerce, Mo. The St. Louis Democrat details the circumstances:

"As the boat neared the landing at Commerce, a lady was seen on the bank gesticulating wildly and shouting to those on board the boat to "keep back, keep back! don't land; the secesh will shoot you!" But before she could be distinctly understood the boat had approached close in shore, and the gang-plank had been run out so that it nearly touched the levee. At this instant a crowd of Jeff. Thompson's band rushed forward from their concealment and commenced firing with muskets to bring down the pilot. The bullets fell thick and fast, hitting the smoke stack and upper works in sundry places; but the pilot had by this time rung the bell to "back" and the boat put down the river some two miles to the plantation of a loyal Frenchman, where they procured arms in sufficient quantity to make a formidable resistance; and, having barricaded the wheel-house and the exposed points below, the Alton moved back up the river again, with colors flying. On her approach the second time, the secesh took to their heels, leaving the landing uncontested. Commodore Porter, who was on board, took charge of the arrangements for defence, and things were speedily put in condition for a vigorous action.

Jeff. Thompson told the people, who were standing on the bank shivering with the cold, as the boat was coming round the bend on her first approach, that he would soon make a fire that would warm them all. He had made preparations and intended to burn the boat, after having taken from her all articles of most value to his gang of desperadoes and thieves; and would undoubtedly have succeeded in his designs but for the heroic lady above referred to—Mrs. Eversoll. The would-be incendiaries endeavored to stop her from warning off the boat, but, being something of an Amazon, she cast from her, right and left, the half starved and shivering followers of Jeff., as though they were children; and when they threatened to shoot her, she defied them to do it. After the boat had backed out, in accordance with her timely warning, Brigadier General Jeff. approached her menacingly, filled with rage, when she coolly informed his excellency that he was a dirty cut-throat, and his men were a band of thieves and murderers, and that, if they would come out one at a time, she would take the contract of whipping every mother's son of them. "You know," said she, "that you are all cowards, and, if that boat comes back with half a dozen muskets, you and your cowardly dogs will take to your heels." Another lady, a Mrs. Hawkins, gallantly seconded Mrs. Eversoll, and to them belongs chiefly the credit of saving the boat. The day of heroines is not past."

THE COAST OF MAINE.—There are probably more good harbors in the state of Maine than there are in all the rest of the Atlantic states from Kittery to the Rio Grande. In a late letter to the Secretary of War, on harbor defences, Gov. Washburn states that, in a coast line of three hundred miles, there are "over one hundred good harbors, at which ships are built and manned." It takes rock-bound coasts to make good harbors, and plenty of them. The importance of the New England coast, in the event of a war with Great Britain, cannot be over estimated. No power on earth can blockade such a coast, or prevent its harbors being the rendezvous of privateers, and the inlets of neutral commerce.

GREAT REDUCTION

IN

The Prices

—OF—

SINGER & CO.'S

STANDARD MACHINES,

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,

Reduced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,

Reduced to $75.

Singer's Letter A Machine,

IS the best Machine in the world for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our Nos. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis.

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two-fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do all this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those, having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

DAILY GAZETTE.

The Battle of Mount Zion.

Correspondence of the St. Louis Democrat.
Camp McClellan, North Missouri, Sturgeon, Dec. 28.

One of the sharpest battles of the war was fought about eighteen miles from this place to-day. Col. Birge, commanding his regiment of sharpshooters, had learned through his spies that a rebel camp was located at a place called Mount Zion Meeting House, in Boone county. Gen. Prentiss having come to this place yesterday with about three hundred cavalry, under the command of Col. Glover, he accordingly organized a command of five companies of sharpshooters, under Col. Birge, and two hundred cavalry, under Col. Glover, and moved towards the rebel camp. Arriving within about a mile, Gen. Prentiss ordered Col. Glover to attack a detachment of about one hundred which had taken position in a lane. He did so with great gallantry, killing a number, and taking several prisoners. The others fled to camp.

The order of battle was now assumed.—Col. Birge, with three companies of his command, advanced through the field, taking the left, and joined the force of Col. Glover, while Gen Prentiss held positoin with a reserve of sharpshooters and a portion of cavalry. The attack was commenced in full force. The fire from the whole rebel line was terrific upon the right wing. For a moment our column wavered and fell back. Col Birge observing this, rode into the most perfect storm of leaden hail that was ever met on battle field, calling upon the men to rally. Col. Glover, coming up with Maj. Temple, and uniting with Col. Birge, soon rallied the whole line, and the fight became terrible. Capt. Boyd, advancing from the right wing, poured in from the rifles at every fire messengers of death. Col. Birge, with a daring that could not be excelled, led on the left wing. He soon saw the enemy on the right giving way, and, sounding the cry of victory, the whole line rushed forward, and the rebels fled in every direction. Col. Birge pursued them, with Capt. Boyd, for two miles, killing four and taking five prisoners.

The rebel battle ground—what a sight! After they had taken away before they fled seven wagon loads, it was then completely covered with dead and wounded. The rebels had taken chosen grounds in the woods, where cavalry could not operate. Col. Glover, however, dismounted his cavalry, and led them forward with his usual bravery. The coolness and bravery of Col. Birge, in rallying his men in the midst of a perfect tornado of bullets, is deserving of all the praise due to a gallant soldier, and what is more for him, during the three hours the battle raged, he never left his position in advance of the line, cheering his men on.

The rebels lost in killed, wounded and missing, not less than one hundred and fifty. Ninety horses were taken, and a load of arms, saddles, and all their camp equipage. Our loss was eight or nine killed and about twenty-six wounded.

Jeff. Thompson's Exploit at Commerce --A Patriotic Woman.

On Sunday afternoon last, the mail steamer City of Alton came near falling into the hands of Jeff. Thompson's rebel gang at Commerce, Mo. The St. Louis Democrat details the circumstances:

"As the boat neared the landing at Commerce, a lady was seen on the bank gesticulating wildly and shouting to those on board the boat to "keep back, keep back! don't land; the secesh will shoot you!" But before she could be distinctly understood the boat had approached close in shore, and the gang-plank had been run out so that it nearly touched the levee. At this instant a crowd of Jeff. Thompson's band rushed forward from their concealment and commenced firing with muskets to bring down the pilot. The bullets fell thick and fast, hitting the smoke stack and upper works in sundry places; but the pilot had by this time rung the bell to "back" and the boat put down the river some two miles to the plantation of a loyal Frenchman, where they procured arms in sufficient quantity to make a formidable resistance; and, having barricaded the wheel-house and the exposed points below, the Alton moved back up the river again, with colors flying. On her approach the second time, the secesh took to their heels, leaving the landing uncontested. Commodore Porter, who was on board, took charge of the arrangements for defence, and things were speedily put in condition for a vigorous action.

Jeff. Thompson told the people, who were standing on the bank shivering with the cold, as the boat was coming round the bend on her first approach, that he would soon make a fire that would warm them all. He had made preparations and intended to burn the boat, after having taken from her all articles of most value to his gang of desperadoes and thieves, and would undoubtedly have succeeded in his designs but for the heroic lady above referred to—Mrs. Eversoll. The would-be incendiaries endeavored to stop her from warning off the boat, but, being something of an Amazon, she cast from her, right and left, the half staved and shivering followers of Jeff., as though they were children; and when they threatened to shoot her, she defied them to do it. After the boat had backed out, in accordance with her timely warning, Bridadier General Jeff. approached her menacingly, filled with rage, when she coolly informed his excellency that he was a dirty cut-throat, and his men were a band of thieves and murderers, and that, if they would come out one at a time, she would take the contract of whipping every mother's son of them. "You know," said she, "that you are all cowards, and, if that boat comes back with half a dozen muskets, you and your cowardly dogs will take to your heels." Another lady, a Mrs. Hawkins, gallantly seconded Mrs. Eversoll, and to them belongs chiefly the credit of saving the boat. The day of heroines is not past."

THE COAST OF MAINE.—There are probably more good harbors in the state of Maine than there are in all the rest of the Atlantic states from Kittery to the Rio Grande. In a late letter to the Secretary of War, on harbor defences, Gov. Washburn states that, in a coast line of three hundred miles, there are "over one hundred good harbors, at which ships are built and manned." It takes rock-bound coasts to make good harbors, and plenty of them. The importance of the New England coast, in the event of a war with Great Britain, cannot be over estimated. No power on earth can blockade such a coast, or prevent its harbors being the rendezvous of privateers, and the inlets of neutral commerce.

GREAT REDUCTION
—IN—
The Prices
—OF—
SINGER & CO.'S
STANDARD MACHINES,

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,

Reduced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,

Reduced to $75.

Singer's Letter A Machine,

IS the best Machine in the word for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our Nos. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

☞ Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

☞ All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis

I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE,

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two-fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

Expected Battle in Kentucky.

It is expected that a battle will soon take place in Kentucky, between the federal forces under Buell and the rebels commanded by Buckner. Gen. Buell has been engaged in building a bridge across Green river, and it was thought that it would have been finished the last of this week, when his whole force would cross. Buckner's main force is at Bowling Green, 25 miles southwest of Munfordsville, the crossing of Green river, and he has also a large force within 17 miles of that point. All the regulars belonging to the federal army have advanced beyond Green river, and it only required the completion of the bridge that the whole army should move forward. We understand that Gen. Buell's army is divided into three divisions, and that it will not march in a body to meet the enemy. These divisions are commanded by Gens. McCook, Nelson and Mitchell, and that our two Wisconsin regiments, 1st and 10th, are under the latter general. Our troops are reported to be twice as strong as the enemy, but the latter have the advantage of having about 50 guns in position at Bowling Green.

Suspension of Specie Payments.

According to the New York papers, the suspension of specie payments by the eastern banks was caused by the balance of indebtedness between the interior and the great cities on the seaboard being in favor of the former. The country was the creditor and the cities the debtors, and hence exchange was for once against the cities.—It was not that specie was flowing to Europe, but it was coming west, and New York would soon have been drained if the banks had not suspended payment.

This state of things is caused by the interior receiving a large proportion in the distribution of payments on account of the war, and in consequence of the people economizing in anticipation of hard times and high taxes. We are much better pleased that this is so than that the suspension should have been caused by our indebtedness to Europe.

If this explanation is correct, there can be no good reason for the suspension of the country banks, as they ought to be able to keep gold enough on hand to redeem their bills, if the flow from the east continues.—This condition of the money market ought to reduce the premium on gold, and we believe it will. This being the case there can be no use in hoarding gold and silver.

Our Foreign Trade.

The imports of foreign dry goods at New York have largely fallen off during the year. The imports for 1850 amounted to $225,498,923—for 1861 it is, $123,641,496. Our exports have, however, largely increased—the excess for this year over last, amounts to $34,971,935. While this is the case our exports of specie is decreased over $38,000,000, and our imports of the precious metals have increased during the same time, $34,310,000.

This statement will explain one of the causes of England's hostility to this country. We have stopped a good deal of our trade with that country. She must have our breadstuffs, while we cannot, while the rebellion lasts, buy enough of her manufactures to keep the balance of trade even, and we must therefore draw her specie. One would suppose that England would be interested in stopping the civil war here without delay. She is, but has made the mistake of supposing that it could be done by favoring the rebels. That is England's big blunder and having made a fool of herself, she is mad at us for it. The prospect now is that England will almost entirely lose her American trade by the stupid policy of her government. In that case, her situation would be desperate indeed.

ADDING INSULT TO INJURY.—An English journal, the "London Daily Telegraph," said to be the organ of Jeff. Davis, under date of December 5th, contains a rabid article on American affairs, made up, according to the custom of journals of the "Times" class, of brag, bluster, and brutality. The writer sneers at Ireland in the following contemptuous manner:

"The volunteers and naval reserves are burning to see the good old flag righted; the only one whine of discord comes from decrepit 'young Ireland,' like the false note flung into a magnificent harmony to complete its diapason by contrast."

It is for Irishmen to consider whether this is not adding insult to injury. After England has had her foot for so long a time on the neck of prostrate Ireland, it scarcely becomes her journalists to taunt the object of their scorn, with weakness. Possibly Ireland may do something more than whine by and by. The insolent spirit of England may yet be humbled. *

Gen. Floyd, during his recent inglorious campaign in Western Virginia, carried several reams of baper with him, which he converted into orders on the confederat government, and palmed them off upon the people in payment for supplies! This mode of extemporising a "circulating medium" is worthy the great genius of the great pickpocket.

Correspondence of the Daily Gazette.

From the National Capitol.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29th, 1861.

Perhaps you may be surprised to find me in good temper to-day, when you remember how exultingly I wrote you some six weeks ago on the subject of the capture of the rebel ambassadors. When on that occasion I said they were likely to "go to England via Boston harbor," at the moment of writing it was my belief that they would not go at all. But a half-days subsequent reflection convinced me that they would go, literally, as I had intimated. So I was not unprepared for the announcement in this morning's Chronicle of the decision of the cabinet on this subject. I have not seen the correspondence between Her Majesty's minister and Secretary Seward, but understand from the Chronicle that the secretary yields to the demand of England on account of the irregularity of Capt. Wilkes' proceeding.

Although the avidity with which England lays hold of this technical advantage shows unmistakably her readiness to take sides against us; still that fact does not furnish us with a legal excuse. I believe I said in my former letter that "England will require that everything shall have been done according to Hoyle." The effect of a misdeal is the same, occurring purely by mistake as though it had been done purposely, and however swimmingly the game may have progressed for our side, the final result is none the less disastrous. The rule is arbitrary, and the winning cards must go into the pack again.

I said I had not read the correspondence in the case. You will have been furnished with it before you receive this, as also with the opinion of the press, generally, upon the subject. I am pretty sure, however, of two or three things that will result from this decision.

1st. Although there will be considerable chafing amongst our belligerent politicians, the people generally will treat the subject calmly, patriotically. It is not in character with the northern people to rebel at the unfavorable results of a political contest, and the pretty thorough schooling they have had for the last few months in military results, will help them to swallow this one with a patient spirit.

2d. After this concession to the demand of England, made upon a palpable pretext, any further quibbling upon technicalities, or any further attempt to take advantage of circumstances, to play into the hands of our enemies, will place her in an out-and-out and positive position; a position not of "neutrality," but of hostility, induced by a settled hatred of our people, and a real desire for the overthrow of our government: so that our government may now make up its mind to meet the issue upon its real merits, and accept war upon the real grounds in which it is tendered. In such a war there may be no fear of the result. "Our ancient ally" will not be an idle spectator. Although we ask no assistance from Napoleon, he will not be content to look on and see the fight, without getting ready in the meantime to settle an old grudge with England, as soon as we are done with her—taking his antagonist as she is taking us at the disadvantage of domestic troubles, for Ireland will be ripe for rebellion long before she gets out of our hands.

3d. I said "the people generally would treat this subject calmly." But, if I am not mistaken, there will be an immediate and imperative demand for an earnest and vigorous prosecution of our civil war. A demand in its prosecution for an entire different policy from what has been thus far adopted—dealing not with rebellion in the abstract, but with the rebels in the concrete! Senator Hale is said to have remarked the other day in the senate, that "in a war with England there would be likely to be some fighting!" We certainly shall have "some fighting," to do preparatory to "a war with England," if we are to have one, and the sooner we begin the better. The surrender of Mason and Slidell ought to have been anticipated by a decisive and overwhelming Union victory, inflicting such a blow upon the rebels as would have settled the result of the contest unmistakably in our favor. If after the graceful acknowledgment of the Queen's demands sent out in the last steamer, our secretary could have subjoined a postscript, saying, "We're out of a job, and wait anxiously your majesty's further demands?" the fact, no doubt, would have assisted her majesty's "law officers" exceedingly in deciding the answer to be in every respect regular, and PERFECTLY SATISFACTORY!

But in order to have such a prosecution of the war as the people will demand, and have it successful, there must be a settlement of a disputed point among ourselves. "A house divided against itself cannot stand." Neither can an army accomplish anything desirable unless among its officers especially, there is a unity of purpose, inducing concert of action. From the very commencement of the rebellion the confederates have been fighting avowedly and above board in favor of slavery, and there can never be any end to the war till every effort and every wish on our part to avoid the square issue is abandoned. We must fight against what they are fighting for, or the fight will continue to be a ridiculous farce. "I speak as unto wise men; judge ye!"

THE FORTIFICATIONS AT WINDSOR.—A few weeks ago a corps of engineers, under comand of Gen. Williams, arrived at Windsor, and proceeded at once to lay out fortifications commanding the city of Detroit.—The plans have been completed and the works commenced, and, if continued, will be ready to mount guns in a short time.—The fort is situated on an eminence a little to the left of the main village, and nearly in the rear of the town hall, and completely commands the whole river front and principal business part of this city. The fortifications consist of breastworks, embracing an area of about sixteen thousand square yards, and surrounded by a ditch forty feet in width. The same corps of engineers are now at Collingwood, selecting a site for similar fortifications there.—Detroit Free Press, Jan. 1.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE, Office in Union Passenger Depot.

Last Night's Report.

DETROIT, Dec. 3.

The extra session of the Michigan legislature convened at Lansing yesterday. The governor's message suggests the liquidation of direct federal tax, by releasing the federal government from reimbursing the state on account of war expenses, to an equal amount. 24,000 men have been furnished by Michigan for the war, of which ten regiments are for three years, one battery of artillery, and one regiment of three months volunteers, have been raised at the expense of the state, costing $539,000 of which $92,000 has been refunded by the United States government.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.

The strike at the navy yard has ended.—The men returned to work to-day.

The Richmond Dispatch of the 31st says: the rebel war steamer Jamestown has joined her consort the Yorktown below, in the James river. The gun-boat Teazer would soon be ready for active service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.

The rumors current in the newspapers, that further trouble may be expected with England, arising out of our blockade of Charleston and Savannah, with stone hulks, are regarded here as entirely without foundation. Gen. McClellan's health continues to improve. The government has taken measures to obtain cotton seed from Port Royal, in order that it may be planted in Illinois, and other western states.

To-Day's Report.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DESPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.

It is said that circumstances have transpired within the last few days, leading to the belief that it will not be difficult to discover with certainty the source whence the rebels have derived their information, within the last two months.

Special to Tribune.—A despatch, received here this evening from Louisville, states: Up to latest advices from Buell's army, no engagement had taken place. It was expected that but little time would elapse before there would be a decesive battle fought or a rapid retreat. The rebels were reported to have taken their position, and the Unionists were within one and a half days march of them.

The Norfolk Day Book of January 1st contains the following telegram:

NASHVILLE, Dec. 31.

A special despatch to the Louisville Courier, from Hopkinsville, says: Col. Forests Cavalry, about 300 strong, and the Union Cavalry of about the same number, met at Sacramento on Green river on Saturday, when a skirmish ensued. About 50 unionists killed, wounded and taken prisoners. Our loss consists of Capt. Clay, Merriweather of Louisville, and one private killed and one wounded. The enemy fled in great confusion.

The Richmodd Enquirer of the 30th says: The Hon. Wm. M. Brown, an Englishman, formerly editor of the New York Journal of Commerce, has been commissioned as acting Secretary of State, during the temporary absence from Richmond of the Hon. R. M. T. Hunter. This confirms the report that Hunter, with Breckinridge had sailed from Halifax for Europe.

The Richmond papers of the 28th say: Charleston was fired in several places on Sunday evening last. Several wooden buildings of small value were destroyed. It is almost certain that the English will, if they have not already occupied Matamoras, with the design, it is feared, of opening commerce with the rebel states, by way of Brownsville, exporting cotton and importing contraband.

Herald's dispatch.—A fight occurred on the 2d inst., between the Union gunboats Yankee and Anacosta of the Potomac flotilla, and the rebel battery at Cockpit point. The missles from the rifled guns of the battery struck the Yankee, doing but small damage. Several of the projectiles from the gunboats took effect in the midst of the battery.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.

The steamship Northern Light arrived this A. M. from Aspinwall with $710,842 in California treasure.

Times' correspondence.—Six rebel prisoners were sent to head quarters to-day. They were taken by our pickets on the left wing of the army. Their information is deemed of high value, and stringent measures were taken to prevent all communication with them. The rebels are expecting an advance of our army along the whole line. They are more than ever demoralized by discords among their public men.

Gen. Magruder is believed to have been relieved of his command at Yorktown, and Gen. Wise, who has been quiet since his return from Western Virginia, is expected to assume command there, or if not there at Frederick.

There is a well-founded belief of serious opposition to the rebel government at Charleston, amounting almost to insurrection, by reason of the apparent abandonment of the South Carolina coast to national invasion, and the immense destruction of property that owners have willingly consigned to the flames. They have destroyed not less than ten million dollars worth of cotton, which at last accounts they were deploring, as they supposed the blockade was about to be raised by England, and they might have shipped and sold it. They were holding Jeff. Davis responsible for these disastrous losses, and many citizens were bold enough to say that the old government was better than the new.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 4.

The Daily Argus suspended its publication for the present. The Weekly Argus will be continued as heretofore.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

FREDERICK, Jan. 2.

Official advices from Williamsport state that detachments of the 13th Massachusetts and the 1st Maryland regiments, participated in the route of the rebel forces on Tuesday. Our forces killed twenty-nine of the enemy, and it is supposed many others died of their wounds. Our loss, according to private information, was five wounded and none killed.

FORTRESS MONROE, Jan. 3.

The steamer Geo. Washington left Old Point at 11 o'clock this morning and proceeded up James River about 9 miles above Newport News, when the rebel steamer Northampton was met with the Union prisoners from Richmond. They stepped on board, under the protection of the national flag, as their names were called. Such happy looking men are seldom seen. Cheer after cheer arose from each boat as they approached, and the band of the 4th artillery played "Home, Sweet Home," which added to the enthusiasm. As the boat passed Newport News the crews of the U. S. frigates Cumberland and Congress manned the rigging, and the troops at camp Butler crowded the beach and the warves, and sent over the water their shouts of welcome.

The Geo. Washington arrived here on her return, about half past five o'clock, and the Baltimore boat which was detained for the purpose, took the released prisoners to Baltimore. The number released is 240, nearly all whom were taken at the battle of Bull Run.

The prisoners left Richmond about seven o'clock this morning. On arriving here all who needed clothing were immdiately supplied by the quartermaster department.

A scouting party left this place this morning and proceeded to Great Bethel and found the place occupied by a guard of cavalry only. The names of the returned Richmond prisoners will be sent if there are any from the west.

DETROIT, Jan. 4.

In the republican caucus at Lansing, last night, Jacob M. Howard was unanimously nominated for United States senator, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Senator Bingham.

COURTLAND N. Y., Jan. 4.

A destructive fire broke out here last evening in the Eagle hotel, which was consumed. Loss $8,000, no inurance. A harness shop adjoining was destroyed, loss $2,000, no insurance. Also a cabinet shop and ware rooms, loss $4,000, partially insured.

ROCHESTER, Jan. 4.

Hon. Alfred Ely arrived here to-day, and had an enthusiastic reception. After a few days rest he takes his seat in congress.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.

Five hundred bales of cotton, en route for England, has arrived at Panama. A much larger amount is going by way of Cape Horn. Efforts are making to raise a very large crop the ensuing year, of a superior quality.

Chili is about to make active war against the Arancaniae Indians. Gen. Yance was killed at Lapaoz by the people in revenge for assassinations ordered by him a month previous. In an attempted outbreak by Col. Balsea, one hundred persons were killed and himself badly wounded, and finally took refuge in the house of the United States minister.

Gen. San Roman is elected President of Peru. He has already been stoned in the streets of Arequifa.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 4.

The bridge over Green river will be completed to-morrow.

Federal reconnoisances are made almost daily south of the river.

The rebels are retiring before Col. Garfield in eastern Kentucky. Col. G. is advancing on Prestonsburg.

Gen. Schoepff has made several ineffectual attempts to draw Zollicoffer from his entrenchments.

No prospects of an immediate general engagement.

All the Kentucky banks, located where rebel domination prevails, have been consolidated under Henry J. Lyons, formerly of Louisville, as president, who has authority to run them for the southern confederacy.

The Markets.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.

Flour market quiet and firm, sales 8,000 bbls at 5,45a5,55 for super western and 5,75 a5,90 common to medium extra western.—Wheat very quiet and firm, sales 15,000 bushels at 1,32 for northwestern club.

CAPTAIN HOLLINS.—A correspondent thus describes the celebrated Captain Hollins, whose adventures with that curious naval centrivance, the Manassas, at the mouth of the Mississippi, have excited so much amusement and attention:

"I met the rebel Commodore, Hollins, the other day at Columbus, or rather on a steamer just this side, had quite a long conversation with him, and your northern readers will thank me and your southern ones will pardon me if I daguerreotype him.—He is short (say five feet eight,) sallow, restless, and observing; sits in his chair as if slivers were perforating his trowsers and penetrating his person; quick spoken, earnest in style, decidedly 'tarish' in his manners, wants you to understand that he is Hollins; gray haired and gray whiskered, beard long and porcupinish; has a decidedly tobaccoey odor and complexion; loves to tell a good story, but has not patience to hear one; blows inordinately, and has figured himself up to the sum total that he is decidedly the biggest card in the rebellion pack. After an hour's conversation with him one would come to the conclusion that he claimed no nationality, but was a cross between an Albany politician and a French ambassador, with all the low cunning and bombast of the former, and the all-important, superficial make-up of the latter. As to his truthfulness, I may be permitted to say that, if the stories he told me are true, then all the rest of the confederate officers I have seen are liars; for Hollin's said that he had the famous steam ram Manassas up at the skirmish with Fort Holt, and all the rest said, and the Memphis papers corroborated, that that wonderful piece of naval ingenuity was still upon the docks at New Orleans. It may be, however, that all the rest were wrong and Hollins right."

THE SUPPRESSED TRIBUNE DISPATCH ON THE TRENT AFFAIR.—The New York Tribune has had another telegraphic dispatch suppressed. This one pretended to give a true history of the Trent affair in Washington, and it is published in the Tribune of the 31st. It is as follows:

"At the first cabinet meeting held after the seizure of Slidell and Mason, the president expressed himself in favor of restoring them to the protection of the British flag, if it should be demanded. He said it was doubtful if the course of Captain Wilkes could be justified by international law; and that, at all events, he could not afford to have two wars upon his hands at the same time. Attorney General Bates echoed this opinion. He thought the seizure unjustifiable, and was in favor of giving up the men upon demand.

"Secretary Seward was non-committal. The other members of the cabinet disagreed with Mr. Lincoln positively, and Secretary Chase argued forcibly and with warmth that the course recommended by the president would be dishonorable to the United States as a nation. Thus matters stood until the first belligerent note from England. No further discussions took place, nor was the question again mooted in cabinet until Christmas day.

"The despatch from Earl Russell to Lord Lyons was delivered at the State Department on Saturday, as was telegraphed the next day, and Mr. Seward immediately went to work on his reply. Remembering the views of the Cabinet, previously expressed, Mr. Lincoln was not in haste to call them together. One meeting was adjourned to prevent premature discussion, and another on the regular day did not take place. The first was on Christmas day, and after Lord Lyons had made his communication. Immediately after Thouvenel's dispatch had been delivered, Seward's reply was read to the council, in a session prolonged for five hours.

"The dispatch of Thouvenel had convinced the opponents of the policy of surrender that the public opinion of Europe would sustain England; and it was used to secure unanimity in that policy.

Mr. Seward's dispatch, however, was subjected to much criticism. Many alterations and modifications were suggested. The next day a revised copy was read to the adjourned cabinet meeting; further changes were suggested, and the despatch as a whole was not approved and adopted until Friday morning."

There are now from 5,000 to 7,000 more negroes on the islands about Beaufort than when our troops first landed, many of them often coming distances, leaving home and families, enduring fatigue and braving dangers, to be free. Four came from Florida in an open boat.

Letter from Colonel Barstow relative to charges in one of "Outsiders" Letters—A Positive and Final Denial.

CAMP BARSTOW, JANESVILLE, Wis.,
January 1st, 1862.

To the Editor of the Daily Wisconsin:

SIR:—I have been handed a copy of your paper, containing a letter signed "Outsider," embodying in a tangible form the charges that have been made against me in regard to the manner in which I obtained from Gen. Fremont authority to raise my regiment of cavalry.

All these charges are based upon the testimony of one David Pratt, a disreputable character whom it was my misfortune to meet in the city of St. Louis. At the time my proposition to raise cavalry was made, I was approached by this man Pratt with a proposition to furnish arms for the regiment. He purported to represent a house in New York engaged in the business of importing arms. I had partially closed a contract with him for arms, when the principal of the house that he purported to represent appeared in St. Louis. He utterly repudiated the authority of this Pratt to contract for arms, and described him to be a needy vagrant and adventurer, whereupon in a manner as little offensive as possible, I declined to have further dealings with Pratt. This started the passions of the malignant scoundrel, and, leaving the Planter's House, his bill unpaid, he wrote me a threatening letter, which I received after my arrival home, and while organizing my regiment.

I never offered this Pratt, or any other person $5,000, or any other sum for assistance in procuring the acceptance of my proposition. I am greatly indebted to the kindness of Judge Edwin Coles, of New York City, who placed my proposition in the hands of Gen. Fremont and returned it to me accepted. I had no further understanding with Judge Coles, who is one of the ablest and most upright jurists in the country, but whose name was not too pure to be dragged by Pratt's malignity into disreputable notoriety in his testimony.

My authority from Gen. Fremont was subsequently confirmed by the Secretary of War. After it was revoked, which was at the personal request of Hon. E. B. Washburn, brother of the Colonel of the 2d Wisconsin Cavalry, I proceeded to Washington, and all these facts were fully explained to the War Department, which restored the authority it had revoked, and confirmed it anew. I have also placed the facts in proper form and laid them before the Congressional Investigating Committee.

I cannot describe how disagreeable the task is to refute again and again these silly fabrications, and expose the character of my libellor. But the comments of the press and the activity of scandal mongers, seem to make it necessary.—Were I only interested, I should pass the slander by in silence. But it is due to the gallant men who have rallied around me, in the cause of the country, to place my public denial and solemn oath against the venomous perjury of this man Pratt, much as I dislike the task of doing so.

When the charge has been made by responsible parties, or in some other form besides the gossip of reporters and paragraphists, I have considered it my duty to go far to meet it, and I have done so. I had hoped that my attention would not be withdrawn from my duties in camp, or in the field, to fight over again old political battles, or to answer the stale slanders of old enemies. This is the last time I shall do so, and I wish the public press to do me at least the justice to give my refutation as wide a publicity as has been given to the charges themselves.

Respectfully yours,
WM. A. BARSTOW.

MODEL SENTINEL.—An anecdote is related of one of the citizen soldiers in the expedition of the Macpherson Blues against the insurgents in 1749, which is worthy of being recorded, as it may be of service to some of the wealthy soldiers in our own ranks. The person referred to was a German by birth, by the name of Koch, and was well known in his day, as a large outdoor underwriter. He died some 20 years since in Paris, whither he had gone for the benefit of the climate, leaving a fortune of one million dollars. Mr. Koch, then a young man, was a private in the Macpherson Blues. It fell to his lot one night to be stationed sentinel over a baggage wagon. The weather was cold, raw and wet. This set the sentinel musing. After remaining on post half an hour he was heard calling lustily: "Corporal of der Guartz! Corporal of der Guartz!" The corporal came, and inquired what was wanting. Koch wished to be relieved for a few minutes, having something to say to Macpherson. He was gratified, and in a few minutes stood in the presence of the general. "Well, Mr. Koch, what is your pleasure?" asked Macpherson. "Why, general, I wish to know what may be ter value of dat wagon over which I am shentinel?" "How should I know, Koch?" "Well, something approximate—not to be barticular?" "A thousand dollars, perhaps." "Very well, General Macpherson, I writes a check for der money, and den I will go to bets," (bed.)

EXPOSURE OF A SECRET POLITICAL ORDER IN INDIANA.—The Indianapolis Journal professes to have knowledge of the existence in that state of a secret society, organized by traitors to the government, with the avowed purpose of opposing the war and defeating all attempts to sustain it by taxation. The society, it alleges, "has its passwords, signs, and lodges," and is an offshoot of the K. G. C., and exists in Indianapolis, Terre Haute, Rockville, Madison, and other places. The Journal gives an expose of the objects of the order and mode of initiating a candidate. The objects are stated to be:

1. Opposition to the administration.
2. Opposition to the war tax.
3. Opposition to taking up arms against the southern confederacy.
4. To defend each other, to death, if necessary.

The following qestions are propounded to the candidates:

Question—Are you a democrat or republican?

Answer—I am a democrat. (If he says he is a republican, he takes an oath that he will no longer vote or act with that party.)

Question—Are you in favor of supporting the war?

Answer—No.

Question—Are you opposed to the war tax?

Answer—I am.

Question—Will you pledge yourself, at the risk of life and property, not to raise arms except to protect this organization?

Answer—I will.

SUBTERRANEAN CITY RAILWAY.—The first portion of the London subterranean city railway will be opened on the 1st of May next. It will extend from Paddington to Victoria station. It will be so wide and well-lit that it will seem more like a well kept street by night than a subterranean passage. It passes right under Fleet street ditch, the fullest and foulest of the London sewers.

Expected Battle in Kentucky.

It is expected that a battle will soon take place in Kentucky, between the federal forces under Buell and the rebels commanded by Buckner. Gen. Buell has been engaged in building a bridge across Green river, and it was thought that it would have been finished the last of this week, when his whole force would cross. Buckner's main force is at Bowling Green, 25 miles southwest of Munfordsville, the crossing of Green river, and he has also a large force within 17 miles of that point. All the regulars belonging to the federal army have advanced beyond Green river, and it only required the completion of the bridge that the whole army should move forward. We understand that Gen. Buell's army is divided into three divisions, and that it will not march in a body to meet the enemy. These divisions are commanded by Gens. McCook, Nelson and Mitchell, and that our two Wisconsin regiments, 1st and 10th, are under the latter general. Our troops are reported to be twice as strong as the enemy, but the latter have the advantage of having about 50 guns in position at Bowling Green.

Suspension of Specie Payments.

According to the New York papers, the suspension of specie payments by the eastern banks was caused by the balance of indebtedness between the interior and the great cities on the seaboard being in favor of the former. The country was the creditor and the cities the debtors, and hence exchange was for once against the cities.—It was not that specie was flowing to Europe, but it was coming west, and New York would soon have been drained if the banks had not suspended payment.

This state of things is caused by the interior receiving a large proportion in the distribution of payments on account of the war, and in consequence of the people economizing in anticipation of hard times and high taxes. We are much better pleased that this is so than that the suspension should have been caused by our indebtedness to Europe.

If this explanation is correct, there can be no good reason for the suspension of the country banks, as they ought to be able to keep gold enough on hand to redeem their bills, if the flow from the east continues.—This condition of the money market ought to reduce the premium on gold, and we believe it will. This being the case there can be no use in hoarding gold and silver.

Our Foreign Trade.

The imports of foreign dry goods at New York have largely fallen off during the year. The imports for 1850 amounted to $225,498,923—for 1861 it is, $123,641,496. Our exports have, however, largely increased—the excess for this year over last, amounts to $34,971,935. While this is the case our exports of specie is decreased over $38,000,000, and our imports of the precious metals have increased during the same time, $34,310,000.

This statement will explain one of the causes of England's hostility to this country. We have stopped a good deal of our trade with that country. She must have our breadstuffs, while we cannot, while the rebellion lasts, buy enough of her manufactures to keep the balance of trade even, and we must therefore draw her specie. One would suppose that England would be interested in stopping the civil war here without delay. She is, but has made the mistake of supposing that it could be done by favoring the rebels. That is England's big blunder and having made a fool of herself, she is mad at us for it. The prospect now is that England will almost entirely lose her American trade by the stupid policy of her government. In that case, her situation would be desperate indeed.

Adding Insult to Injury.—An English journal, the "London Daily Telegraph," said to be the organ of Jeff. Davis, under date of December 5th, contains a rabid article on American affairs, made up, according to the custom of journals of the "Times" class, of brag, bluster, and brutality. The writer sneers at Ireland in the following contemptuous manner:

"The volunteers and naval reserves are burning to see the good old flag righted; the only one whine of discord comes from decrepit 'young Ireland,' like the false note flung into a magnificent harmony to complete its diapason by contrast."

It is for Irishmen to consider whether this is not adding insult to injury. After England has had her foot for so long a time on the neck of prostrate Ireland, it scarcely becomes her journalists to taunt the object of their scorn, with weakness. Possibly Ireland may do something more than whine by and by. The insolent spirit of England may yet be humbled. *

Gen. Floyd, during his recent inglorious campaign in Western Virginia, carried several reams of paper with him, which he converted into orders on the confederat government, and palmed them off upon the people in payment for supplies! This mode of extemporising a "circulating medium" is worthy the great genius of the great pickpocket.

Correspondence of the Daily Gazette.

From the National Capitol.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29th, 1861.

Perhaps you may be surprised to find me in good temper to-day, when you remember how exultingly I wrote you some six weeks ago on the subject of the capture of the rebel ambassadors. When on that occasion I said they were likely to "go to England via Boston harbor," at the moment of writing it was my belief that they would not go at all. But a half-days subsequent reflection convinced me that they would go, literally, as I had intimated. So I was not unprepared for the announcement in this morning's Chronicle of the decision of the cabinet on this subject. I have not seen the correspondence between Her Majesty's minister and Secretary Seward, but understand from the Chronicle that the secretary yields to the demand of England on account of the irregularity of Capt. Wilkes' proceeding.

Although the avidity with which England lays hold of this technical advantage shows unmistakably her readiness to take sides against us; still that fact does not furnish us with a legal excuse. I believe I said in my former letter that "England will require that everything shall have been done according to Hoyle." The effect of a misdeal is the same, occurring purely by mistake as though it had been done purposely, and however swimmingly the game may have progressed for our side, the final result is none the less disastrous. The rule is arbitrary, and the winning cards must go into the pack again.

I said I had not read the correspondence in the case. You will have been furnished with it before you receive this, as also with the opinion of the press, generally, upon the subject. I am pretty sure, however, of two or three things that will result from this decision.

1st. Although there will be considerable chafing amongst our belligerent politicians, the people generally will treat the subject calmly, patriotically. It is not in character with the northern people to rebel at the unfavorable results of a political contest; and the pretty thorough schooling they have had for the last few months in military results, will help them to swallow this one with a patient spirit.

2d. After this concession to the demand of England, made upon a palpable pretext, any further quibbling upon technicalities, or any further attempt to take advantage of circumstances, to play into the hands of our enemies, will place her in an out-and-out and positive position; a position not of "neutrality," but of hostility, induced by a settled hatred of our people, and a real desire for the overthrow of our government: so that our government may now make up its mind to meet the issue upon its real merits, and accept war upon the real grounds in which it is tendered. In such a war there may be no fear of the result. "Our ancient ally" will not be an idle spectator. Although we ask no assistance from Napoleon, he will not be content to look on and see the fight, without getting ready in the meantime to settle an old grudge with England, as soon as we are done with her—taking his antagonist as she is taking us at the disadvantage of domestic troubles, for Ireland will be ripe for rebellion long before she gets out of our hands.

3d. I said "the people generally would treat this subject calmly." But, if I am not mistaken, there will be an immediate and imperative demand for an earnest and vigorous prosecution of our civil war. A demand in its prosecution for an entire different policy from what has been thus far adopted—dealing not with rebellion in the abstract, but with the rebels in the concrete! Senator Hale is said to have remarked the other day in the senate, that "in a war with England there would be likely to be some fighting!" We certainly shall have "some fighting," to do preparatory to "a war with England," if we are to have one, and the sooner we begin the better. The surrender of Mason and Slidell ought to have been anticipated by a decisive and overwhelming Union victory, inflicting such a blow upon the rebels as would have settled the result of the contest unmistakably in our favor. If after the graceful acknowledgment of the Queen's demands sent out in the last steamer, our secretary could have subjoined a postscript, saying, "We're out of a job, and wait anxiously your majesty's further demands?" the fact, no doubt, would have assisted her majesty's "law officers" exceedingly in deciding the answer to be in every respect regular, and PERFECTLY SATISFACTORY!

But in order to have such a prosecution of the war as the people will demand, and have it successful, there must be a settlement of a disputed point among ourselves. "A house divided against itself cannot stand." Neither can an army accomplish anything desirable unless among its officers especially, there is a unity of purpose, inducing concert of action. From the very commencement of the rebellion the confederates have been fighting avowedly and above board in favor of slavery, and there can never be any end to the war till every effort and every wish on our part to avoid the square issue is abandoned. We must fight against what they are fighting for, or the fight will continue to be a ridiculous farce. "I speak as unto wise men, judge ye!"

The Fortifications at Windsor.—A few weeks ago a corps of engineers, under comand of Gen. Williams, arrived at Windsor, and proceeded at once to lay out fortifications commanding the city of Detroit.—The plans have been completed and the works commenced, and, if continued, will be ready to mount guns in a short time.—The fort is situated on an eminence a little to the left of the main village, and nearly in the rear of the town hall, and completely commands the whole river front and principal business part of this city. The fortifications consist of breastworks, embracing an area of about sixteen thousand square yards, and surrounded by a ditch forty feet in width. The same corps of engineers are now at Collingwood, selecting a site for similar fortifications there.—Detroit Free Press, Jan. 1.

Kossuth.—A Turin letter contradicts the statement that Kossuth is a prey to consumption. He is in excellent health.

BY TELEGRAPH.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE, Office in Union Passenger Depot.

Last Night's Report.

DETROIT, Dec. 3.

The extra session of the Michigan legislature convened at Lansing yesterday. The governor's message suggests the liquidation of direct federal tax, by releasing the federal government from reimbursing the state on account of war expenses, to an equal amount. 24,000 men have been furnished by Michigan for the war, of which ten regiments are for three years, one battery of artillery, and one regiment of three months volunteers, have been raised at the expense of the state, costing $539,000 of which $92,000 has been refunded by the United States government.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.

The strike at the navy yard has ended.—The men returned to work to-day.

The Richmond Dispatch of the 31st says: the rebel war steamer Jamestown has joined her consort the Yorktown below, in the James river. The gun-boat Teazer would soon be ready for active service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.

The rumors current in the newspapers, that further trouble may be expected with England, arising out of our blockade of Charleston and Savannah, with stone hulks, are regarded here as entirely without foundation. Gen. McClellan's health continues to improve. The government has taken measures to obtain cotton seed from Port Royal, in order that it may be planted in Illinois, and other western states.

To-Day's Report.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DESPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.

It is said that circumstances have transpired within the last few days, leading to the belief that it will not be difficult to discover with certainty the source whence the rebels have derived their information, within the last two months.

Special to Tribune.—A despatch, received here this evening from Louisville, states: Up to latest advices from Buell's army, no engagement had taken place. It was expected that but little time would elapse before there would be a decesive battle fought or a rapid retreat. The rebels were reported to have taken their position, and the Unionists were within one and a half days march of them.

The Norfolk Day Book of January 1st contains the following telegram:

NASHVILLE, Dec. 31.

A special despatch to the Louisville Courier, from Hopkinsville, says: Col. Forests Cavalry, about 300 strong, and the Union Cavalry of about the same number, met at Sacramento on Green river on Saturday, when a skirmish ensued. About 50 unionists killed, wounded and taken prisoners. Our loss consists of Capt. Clay, Merriweather of Louisville, and one private killed and one wounded. The enemy fled in great confusion.

The Richmodd Enquirer of the 30th says: The Hon. Wm. M. Brown, an Englishman, formerly editor of the New York Journal of Commerce, has been commissioned as acting Secretary of State, during the temporary absence from Richmond of the Hon. R. M. T. Hunter. This confirms the report that Hunter, with Breckinridge had sailed from Halifax for Europe.

The Richmond papers of the 28th say: Charleston was fired in several places on Sunday evening last. Several wooden buildings of small value were destroyed. It is almost certain that the English will, if they have not already occupied Matamoras, with the design, it is feared, of opening commerce with the rebel states, by way of Brownsville, exporting cotton and importing contraband.

Herald's dispatch.—A fight occurred on the 2d inst., between the Union gunboats Yankee and Anacosta of the Potomac flotilla, and the rebel battery at Cockpit point. The missles from the rifled guns of the battery struck the Yankee, doing but small damage. Several of the projectiles from the gunboats took effect in the midst of the battery.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.

The steamship Northern Light arrived this A. M. from Aspinwall with $710,842 in California treasure.

Times' correspondence.—Six rebel prisoners were sent to head quarters to-day. They were taken by our pickets on the left wing of the army. Their information is deemed of high value, and stringent measures were taken to prevent all communication with them. The rebels are expecting an advance of our army along the whole line. They are more than ever demoralized by discords among their public men.

Gen. Magruder is believed to have been relieved of his command at Yorktown, and Gen. Wise, who has been quiet since his return from Western Virginia, is expected to assume command there, or if not there at Frederick.

There is a well-founded belief of serious opposition to the rebel government at Charleston, amounting almost to insurrection, by reason of the apparent abandonment of the South Carolina coast to national invasion, and the immense destruction of property that owners have willingly consigned to the flames. They have destroyed not less than ten million dollars worth of cotton, which at last accounts they were deploring, as they supposed the blockade was about to be raised by England, and they might have shipped and sold it. They were holding Jeff. Davis responsible for these disastrous losses, and many citizens were bold enough to say that the old government was better than the new.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 4.

The Daily Argus suspended its publication for the present. The Weekly Argus will be continued as heretofore.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

FREDERICK, Jan. 2.

Official advices from Williamsport state that detachments of the 13th Massachusetts and the 1st Maryland regiments, participated in the route of the rebel forces on Tuesday. Our forces killed twenty-nine of the enemy, and it is supposed many others died of their wounds. Our loss, according to private information, was five wounded and none killed.

FORTRESS MONROE, Jan. 3.

The steamer Geo. Washington left Old Point at 11 o'clock this morning and proceeded up James River about 9 miles above Newport News, when the rebel steamer Northampton was met with the Union prisoners from Richmond. They stepped on board, under the protection of the national flag, as their names were called. Such happy looking men are seldom seen. Cheer after cheer arose from each boat as they approached, and the band of the 4th artillery played "Home, Sweet Home," which added to the enthusiasm. As the boat passed Newport News the crews of the U. S. frigates Cumberland and Congress manned the rigging, and the troops at camp Butler crowded the beach and the warves, and sent over the water their shouts of welcome.

The Geo. Washington arrived here on her return, about half past five o'clock, and the Baltimore boat which was detained for the purpose, took the released prisoners to Baltimore. The number released is 240, nearly all whom were taken at the battle of Bull Run.

The prisoners left Richmond about seven o'clock this morning. On arriving here all who needed clothing were immdiately supplied by the quartermaster department.

A scouting party left this place this morning and proceeded to Great Bethel and found the place occupied by a guard of cavalry only. The names of the returned Richmond prisoners will be sent if there are any from the west.

DETROIT, Jan. 4.

In the republican caucus at Lansing, last night, Jacob M. Howard was unanimously nominated for United States senator, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Senator Bingham.

COURTLAND N. Y., Jan. 4.

A destructive fire broke out here last evening in the Eagle hotel, which was consumed. Loss $8,000, no inurance. A harness shop adjoining was destroyed, loss $2,000, no insurance. Also a cabinet shop and ware rooms, loss $4,000, partially insured.

ROCHESTER, Jan. 4.

Hon. Alfred Ely arrived here to-day, and had an enthusiastic reception. After a few days rest he takes his seat in congress.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.

Five hundred bales of cotton, en route for England, has arrived at Panama. A much larger amount is going by way of Cape Horn. Efforts are making to raise a very large crop the ensuing year, of a superior quality.

Chili is about to make active war against the Arancaniac Indians. Gen. Yance was killed at Lapaoz by the people in revenge for assassinations ordered by him a month previous. In an attampted outbreak by Col. Balsea, one hundred persons were killed and himself badly wounded, and finally took refuge in the house of the United States minister.

Gen. San Roman is elected President of Peru. He has already been stoned in the streets of Arequifa.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 4.

The bridge over Green river will be completed to-morrow.

Federal reconnoisances are made almost daily south of the river.

The rebels are retiring before Col. Garfield in eastern Kentucky. Col. G. is advancing on Prestonsburg.

Gen. Schoepff has made several ineffectual attempts to draw Zollicoffer from his entrenchments.

No prospects of an immediate general engagement.

All the Kentucky banks, located where rebel domination prevails, have been consolidated under Henry J. Lyons, formerly of Louisville, as president, who has authority to run them for the southern confederacy.

The Markets.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.

Flour market quiet and firm, sales 8,000 bbls at 5,45a5,55 for super western and 5,75 a5,90 common to medium extra western.—Wheat very quiet and firm, sales 15,000 bushels at 1,32 for northwestern club.

Captain Hollins.—A correspondent thus describes the celebrated Captain Hollins, whose adventures with that curious naval centrivance, the Manassas, at the mouth of the Mississippi, have excited so much amusement and attention:

"I met the rebel Commodore, Hollins, the other day at Columbus, or rather on a steamer just this side, had quite a long conversation with him, and your northern readers will thank me and your southern ones will pardon me if I daguerreotype him.—He is short (say five feet eight,) sallow, restless, and observing; sits in his chair as if slivers were perforating his trowsers and penetrating his person; quick spoken, earnest in style, decidedly 'tarish' in his manners, wants you to understand that he is Hollins; gray haired and gray whiskered, beard long and porcupinish; has a decidedly tobaccoey odor and complexion; loves to tell a good story, but has not patience to hear one; blows inordinately, and has figured himself up to the sum total that he is decidedly the biggest card in the rebellion pack. After an hour's conversation with him one would come to the conclusion that he claimed no nationality, but was a cross between an Albany politician and a French ambassador, with all the low cunning and bombast of the former, and the all-important, superficial make-up of the latter. As to his truthfulness, I may be permitted to say that, if the stories he told me are true, then all the rest of the confederate officers I have seen are liars; for Hollin's said that he had the famous steam ram Manassas up at the skirmish with Fort Holt, and all the rest said, and the Memphis papers corroborated, that that wonderful piece of naval ingenuity was still upon the docks at New Orleans. It may be, however, that all the rest were wrong and Hollins right."

The Suppressed Tribune Dispatch on the Trent Affair.—The New York Tribune has had another telegraphic dispatch suppressed. This one pretended to give a true history of the Trent affair in Washington, and it is published in the Tribune of the 31st. It is as follows:

"At the first cabinet meeting held after the seizure of Slidell and Mason, the president expressed himself in favor of restoring them to the protection of the British flag, if it should be demanded. He said it was doubtful if the course of Captain Wilkes could be justified by international law; and that, at all events, he could not afford to have two wars upon his hands at the same time. Attorney General Bates echoed this opinion. He thought the seizure unjustifiable, and was in favor of giving up the men upon demand.

"Secretary Seward was non-committal. The other members of the cabinet disagreed with Mr. Lincoln positively, and Secretary Chase argued forcibly and with warmth that the course recommended by the president would be dishonorable to the United States as a nation. Thus matters stood until the first belligerent note from England. No further discussions took place, nor was the question again mooted in cabinet until Christmas day.

"The despatch from Earl Russell to Lord Lyons was delivered at the State Department on Saturday, as was telegraphed the next day, and Mr. Seward immediately went to work on his reply. Remembering the views of the Cabinet, previously expressed, Mr. Lincoln was not in haste to call them together. One meeting was adjourned to prevent premature discussion, and another on the regular day did not take place. The first was on Christmas day, and after Lord Lyons had made his communication. Immediately after Thouvenel's dispatch had been delivered, Seward's reply was read to the council, in a session prolonged for five hours.

"The dispatch of Thouvenel had convinced the opponents of the policy of surrender that the public opinion of Europe would sustain England; and it was used to secure unanimity in that policy.

Mr. Seward's dispatch, however, was subjected to much criticism. Many alterations and modifications were suggested. The next day a revised copy was read to the adjourned cabinet meeting; further changes were suggested, and the despatch as a whole was not approved and adopted until Friday morning."

There are now from 5,000 to 7,000 more negroes on the islands about Beaufort than when our troops first landed, many of them often coming distances, leaving home and families, enduring fatigue and braving dangers, to be free. Four came from Florida in an open boat.

Letter from Colonel Barstow relative to charges in one of "Outsiders" Letters—A Positive and Final Denial.

CAMP BARSTOW, JANESVILLE, Wis.'
January 1st, 1862.

To the Editor of the Daily Wisconsin:

SIR:—I have been handed a copy of your paper, containing a letter signed "Outsider," embodying in a tangible form the charges that have been made against me in regard to the manner in which I obtained from Gen. Fremont authority to raise my regiment of cavalry.

All these charges are based upon the testimony of one David Pratt, a disreputable character whom it was my misfortune to meet in the city of St. Louis. At the time my proposition to raise cavalry was made, I was approached by this man Pratt with a proposition to furnish arms for the regiment. He purported to represent a house in New York engaged in the business of importing arms. I had partially closed a contract with him for arms, when the principal of the house that he purported to represent appeared in St. Louis. He utterly repudiated the authority of this Pratt to contract for arms, and described him to be a needy vagrant and adventurer, whereupon in a manner as little offensive as possible, I declined to have further dealings with Pratt. This started the passions of the malignant scoundrel, and, leaving the Planter's House, his bill unpaid, he wrote me a threatening letter, which I received after my arrival home, and while organizing my regiment.

I never offered this Pratt, or any other person $5,000, or any other sum for assistance in procuring the acceptance of my proposition. I am greatly indebted to the kindness of Judge Edwin Coles, of New York City, who placed my proposition in the hands of Gen. Fremont and returned it to me accepted. I had no further understanding with Judge Coles, who is one of the ablest and most upright jurists in the country, but whose name was not too pure to be dragged by Pratt's malignity into disreputable notoriety in his testimony.

My authority from Gen. Fremont was subsequently confirmed by the Secretary of War. After it was revoked, which was at the personal request of Hon. E. B. Washburn, brother of the Colonel of the 2d Wisconsin Cavalry, I proceeded to Washington, and all these facts were fully explained to the War Department, which restored the authority it had revoked, and confirmed it anew. I have also placed the facts in proper form and laid them before the Congressional Investigating Committee.

I cannot describe how disagreeable the task is to refute again and again these silly fabrications, and expose the character of my libellor. But the comments of the press and the activity of scandal mongers, seem to make it necessary.—Were I only interested, I should pass the slander by in silance. But it is due to the gallant men who have rallied around me, in the cause of the country, to place my public denial and solemn oath against the venomous perjury of this man Pratt, much as I dislike the task of doing so.

When the charge has been made by responsible parties, or in some other form besides the gossip of reporters and paragraphists, I have considered it my duty to go far to meet it, and I have done so. I had hoped that my attention would not be withdrawn from my duties in camp, or in the field, to fight over again old political battles, or to answer the stale slanders of old enemies. This is the last time I shall do so, and I wish the public press to do me at least the justice to give my refutation as wide a publicity as has been given to the charges themselves.

Respectfully yours,
WM. A. BARSTOW.

Model Sentinel.—An anecdote is related of one of the citizen soldiers in the expedition of the Macpherson Blues against the insurgents in 1749, which is worthy of being recorded, as it may be of service to some of the wealthy soldiers in our own ranks. The person referred to was a German by birth, by the name of Koch, and was well known in his day, as a large outdoor underwriter. He died some 20 years since in Paris, whither he had gone for the benefit of the climate, leaving a fortune of one million dollars. Mr. Koch, then a young man, was a private in the Macpherson Blues. It fell to his lot one night to be stationed sentinel over a baggage wagon. The weather was cold, raw and wet. This set the sentinel musing. After remaining on post half an hour he was heard calling lustily: "Corporal of der Guartz! Corporal of der Guartz!" The corporal came, and inquired what was wanting. Koch wished to be relieved for a few minutes, having something to say to Macpherson. He was gratified, and in a few minutes stood in the presence of the general. "Well, Mr. Koch, what is your pleasure?" asked Macpherson. "Why, general, I wish to know what may be ter value of dat wagon over which I am shentinel?" "How should I know, Koch?" "Well, something approximate—not to be barticular?" "A thousand dollars, perhaps." "Very well, General Macpherson, I writes a check for der money, and den I will go to bets," (bed.)

Exposure of a Secret Political Order in Indiana.—The Indianapolis Journal professes to have knowledge of the existence in that state of a secret society, organized by traitors to the government, with the avowed purpose of opposing the war and defeating all attempts to sustain it by taxation. The society, it alleges, "has its passwords, signs, and lodges," and is an offshoot of the K. G. C., and exists in Indianapolis, Terre Haute, Rockville, Madison, and other places. The Journal gives an expose of the objects of the order and mode of initiating a candidate. The objects are stated to be:

1. Opposition to the administration.
2. Opposition to the war tax.
3. Opposition to taking up arms against the southern confederacy.
4. To defend each other, to death, if necessary.

The following qestions are propounded to the candidates:

Question—Are you a democrat or republican?

Answer—I am a democrat. (If he says he is a republican, he takes an oath that he will no longer vote or act with that party.)

Question—Are you in favor of supporting the war?

Answer—No.

Question—Are you opposed to the war tax?

Answer—I am.

Question—Will you pledge yourself, at the risk of life and property, not to raise arms except to protect this organization?

Answer—I will.

Subterranean City Railway.—The first portion of the London subterranean city railway will be opened on the 1st of May next. It will extend from Paddington to Victoria station. It will be so wide and well-lit that it will seem more like a well kept street by night than a subterranean passage. It passes right under Fleet street ditch, the fullest and foulest of the London sewers.

Our mills are many of them closed, and all others are on about half time, but nobody appears to want the produce of the mills. We have stacks of yarn and cloth, but find no customers. I believe if we did not have a loom at work during 1862, we should not consume half the stock now in the warehouses." It may also be a question whether, in case the want of cotton in England were ten times as pressing as it is, breaking the blockade, and taking up the cause of the rebels would be the way to get it.

DISCOVERIES IN CENTRAL AMERICA—AN INDIAN GOD AND A BURIED CITY.—While all the world is busy with the present, so big with great events, we have a select circle of gentlemen in Boston—the Ethnological Society—who have the taste and leisure for delving among the forgotten relics of the past.

At the last meeting of this society some interesting results of antiquarian research were presented.

From Central America came the report of the discovery by our minister at Guatemala, in the yard of his house, of an ancient Indian idol of stone, which had been there for two hundred years, where it was brought by the Indians from the ancient residence of the Quichean Kings, more than 150 miles distant over lofty mountains and through difficult and dangerous passes. For forty-six years it has been buried, to hide it from the Indians, who came by night to worship, until it was at last unearthed by our minister, Hon. Mr. Crosby. A more interesting discovery still is that reported to have been made in November, of the ruins of an immense city, buried in a dense forest, in the province Esquimitha, about fifty-six miles from Guatemala city, which is said to contain a very large number of fine specimens of sculpture. Of this we shall hear more hereafter.

SUSPENDED SPECIE PAYMENT.—L. Capron authorizes us to say that he has suspended specie payment and shut up shop. He has now gone to Janesville to enlist in Barstow's cavalry, and will return in a few days to settle up and pay fifty cents on the dollar—in "currency."—Milwaukee News.

Correspondence of the Daily Gazette.

From the Fourth Regiment.

CAMP PAINE, IN PATTERSON'S PARK }
Baltimore, Md., Jan. 1, 1862. }

I wish you and your readers a "Happy New Year." Contrary to our expectations when we encamped here, we are still in Baltimore. When we returned from Eastern Virginia, on the 7th of December, it was thought by all, officers as well as men, that we should make but a short stay in the "Monumental city." Whither we should go, no one pretended to know, but it was generally supposed that we should be ordered off in the next coasting expedition.—This supposition began to lose ground, as day after day we remained and no preparations were made for our departure. It was finally annihilated entirely, by an order from Gen. McClellan to Gen. Dix, in which he stated that the 4th Wisconsin would not be removed from this division, unless some unforseen exigency of war should demand it. Immediately on the receipt of this intelligence, preparations were made for the erection of barracks for our accommodation this winter. Carpenters were detailed who immediately commenced work, and now four large buildings, sufficient for the accommodation of the entire regiment, are in progress of completion, and nearly ready for occupation.

If we should remain here till the close of the war, our prospect of smelling gun-powder is scarcely better than it was in Wisconsin, as there is but little better show for a fight in this division, than there is in Janesville. This is the source of no little dissatisfaction, as Col. Paine has said that it was the height of his ambition to lead his regiment to battle, and I assure you nothing could give his men greater pleasure than to follow him to victory. But this is one of the inconveniences of war that must be endured. We can only hope that the "unforseen exigency" may arise, if it will give us an opportunity to test our rifled muskets on a rebel foe.

We are encamped in Patterson's Park, one of the public squares of the city. It is the site of a fortification erected during the last war with England. The old breastworks are in an excellent state of preservation, having been sacredly guarded by the park keeper, who was one of the "defenders" of Baltimore in 1812.

From the hill whereon we are encamped we have a fair view of Ft. McHenry across the Patapsco river, and further down the inlet, near the bay, can be seen the walls of Fort Carroll, a strong fortification commenced several years since, but still in an incomplete state. On Snake Hill, about half a mile from this point, is a battery, erected the past summer, and mounting 33 guns; and on Federal Hill, less than a mile westward from here is another fort still larger. Thus you will perceive that this portion of the city presents a decidedly military appearance. Indeed this city may be regarded as invincible against any force that Jeff. Davis, or even John Bull himself might be able to send against it.

By the by, the surrender of Mason and Slidell, produced not a little grumbling in this portion of the army, but it was finally accepted as a military necessity, and the demand was conceded to be characteristic of Johnny's bullying disposition, which on some future occasion, when we have less trouble at home to attend to, we may have the pleasure of humbling, as we have done on two former occasions.

Since we have been encamped here, we have on several occasions paraded through the streets of that portion of the city adjacent to our camp. On every occasion we have elicited the encomiums of the press, for our excellent drill and soldier-like appearance.

The weather here is delightfully mild.—It is difficult for a Wisconsin man to conceive that it is now midwinter. We have seen no snow in Maryland yet, though while we were in Virginia, sufficient fell one night to whiten the ground.

GUN.

The London Times hopes the American people will be honorable enough, even should a war ensue, to keep right along paying dividends to English capitalists who have invested in American securities.—There will be no obligation resting on our people to do so. The laws of war justify a suspension of payment so long as the war continues. But we can imagine a war with England, during the continuance of which there would be no wish to retaliate. It would not, however, be a war waged while our whole energies are employed in crushing out a wicked rebellion. If England shall meanly take advantage of our position to aid those we are seeking to punish, she and her people must expect neither forbearance nor courtesy.

McKEY & BRO'S JANUARY CIRCULAR For 1862.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

To the People of

Janesville, Rock & adjoining Counties

McKey & Bro's MAMMOTH STORE FULLY COMPLETED and READY FOR BUSINESS.

WE have now completed our new addition, making our store decidedly the largest business establishment west of New York city; size, 44 feet by 160, five stories high including basement. And in order to fill the same, we found it necessary in the early part of the season, to purchase ten times our usual amount of stock. Anticipating a still further advance on Foreign and Domestic goods, we made another extensive purchase immediately before the great and unprecedented advance which has taken place within the past two weeks. We have now in stock, at our different establishments, over $250,000 Worth of Merchandize!

Every single dollars worth of which was purchased before the advance, and in order to give our patrons a general benefit, we shall, for the

Next 20 Days, Sell at Retail Only,

the following goods at the prices mentioned, namely: Our entire stock of perfectly

FAST COLORED PRINTS

at 10 cents per yard. Let the people bear in mind that Prints have advanced in price 50 per cent; still we have concluded to close out the amount of our retail stock of Prints, being the very best brands in the market, at 10 Cents per Yard.

We have now on hand

10 Cases Madder Color Prints

suitable for bedding, which we will sell, for the next 20 days, at 16 yards for $1, worth this day in Chicago 10 cents per yard at wholesale. The above prices are for the retail trade exclusively.

5,000 Chenille Scarfs

at 12½ cents each.

Just received, five cases of plain, solid color

DE LAINES!

which we offer, for the next 20 days, at prices even lower than prints, namely: 12 yards for $1. Just imagine,

Eight Pence per Yard for DeLaines.

3,000 pieces fancy figured DeLaines, nice small patterns, of the very best printing, which we offer for the next 20 days, at one shilling per yard, or eight yards for $1, the same price as prints.

We would ask attention to the following: our entire stock of splendid

Manchester and Pacific DeLaines,

sold to-day in New York City at 25 cents, we now offer, for the next 20 days, at 1 shilling 6 pence per yard, or 10 yards for $1,88, which is the retail price of prints in many cities of this state to-day.

OUR MILLINERY DEPARTMENT

is well filled with a select stock of

Ribbons, Flowers, Plumes, Trimmings, &c.,

and presents great inducements to customers.

We call particular attention to our

Dress Goods Department.

Having purchased in the early part of December 5,000 pieces of different styles of Dress Goods, at the great closing auction sales of the season, from Wilderning, Hogart & Humbert, William Topping & Co., Wilderming & Mount, Hagarty & Co., Rudrow, Jones & Co., and Lockwood Brothers, where no goods are sold but by the case, direct from the Importers. And having purchased exclusively for cash, enables us this day to offer to our customers some

FOREIGN DRESS GOODS

as cheap as a common DeLaine, and in many cases as low as the present tariff prices. For instance, we now offer 100 pieces splendid Repps, ¾ yard wide at 2 shillings per yard, elegantly printed and of the most modern designs, and sold by us in the early part of the season at 50 cents per yard. We now offer, for the next 20 days, 100 pieces of double width Repps, sold by us last month at 63 cents per yard, now only 44 cents. All our

Mohairs, Poplins, French Merinos, Plain Repps

and many other styles at an equal reduction. Our stock of

CLOAKS AND SHAWLS

is now much larger than at any time previous this season, and in order to close them out we offer the entire stock at a

GREAT REDUCTION,

from 20 to 40 per cent from last week's prices.

We have recently fitted up a spacious

Carpet Room

the entire length of our store, and filled it to its utmost capacity with a splendid stock of

Carpets and Oil Cloths,

purchased before the great advance on Woolens and Cottons.

OUR STOCK OF CLOTHING

is large and varied, and also comprises Hats, Caps, Furnishing Goods, Buffalo Robes, Furs, &c., all purchased previously to the great advance—yet, for the purpose of closing out the entire stock, we now offer it at a Great Reduction.

Garments Made and Cut to Order.

Hoop Skirts!

We call the particular attention of the ladies to our unequaled stock of Hoop Skirts, comprising the Belle Trail, Four Cord Diamond Skirts which we now offer at

FOUR CENTS PER ROW.

Also, the new Wove Tape Skirts with sealed tabs and patent fastenings, which we had made to order in New York city, and are warranted never to Get Out of Shape.

Also a large assortment of these much worn Balmoral Skirts, and very cheap.

IN CONCLUSION,

we beg leave to assure our customers that we will continue to do business upon the principle which has heretofore given such general satisfaction, and our store such wide-spread reputation. Make no purchases until you have paid a visit to our establishment, where you will find a greater variety, larger stock and

than any other store in this part of the world. Persons living at a distance, in the purchase of the small sum of five dollars, can make sufficient to pay the expense by coming to our store to trade, as from 25 to 50 per ct.

CAN BE SAVED

by purchasing at our house, in comparison to prices paid at country stores.

SECOND GREAT ARRIVAL OF Fall and Winter Goods! AT THE NEW AND POPULAR STORE OF RIORDAN & LEECH, Main Street, Janesville.

OWING to the immense trade we have done since commencement in this city, (a trade which far exceeded our most sanguine expectations,) we have been enabled to add to our already well selected and extensive stock a still greater variety of

NEW AND DESIRABLE GOODS,

all of which have been purchased previous to the late advance, thereby giving us the advantage of merchants who have been obliged to pay a far higher rate for goods purchased within the past week or two; we shall therefore continue to sell at prices which are sure to give satisfaction, and which have given us the character of

The Cheapest Store in Janesville,

and which we are determined to maintain during our whole business career.

We call particular attention to our extensive variety of

DRESS GOODS,

comprising the latest styles in market: beautiful figured and plain Merinoes, all colors, Ottoman Repps, Silk Poplins, double width Broches, black and white check Valentias, Cordennas, Coburgs, &c., &c., together with an elegant assortment of

of the very richest styles.

SHAWLS AND CLOAKS.

In this department we have always been able to boast of the best selection in town and have added all the

Different Styles Lately Manufactured,

thereby enabling us to offer the

HANDSOMEST LOT OF CLOAKS

to be found in any city of the west, not even excepting Chicago. Our stock of

Broche, Square and Long Shawls

are cheaper than ever before offered in this city, being the importation of Thirion Mallaird & Co. and purchased at auction at about one half their actual value.

We have on hand an elegant variety of

FURS!

consisting of Fitch, French Cooney, Mink, &c., &c., with

MUFFS TO MATCH,

and which we offer

Twenty-Five Per Cent Lower

than any other establishment in this city, a fact fully admitted by all who have purchased of us. Our Furs are entirely new and warranted free from moths.

It is unnecessary for us to enumerate our stock.

Call, Examine and Judge for Yourselves.

We feel grateful for the extensive patronage bestowed on us and hope to merit its continuation.

AN OLD CITIZEN REWARDED.—The patriotism of our fellow citizen, Major Taylor, has been rewarded by the appointment of regimental postmaster in Col. Barstow's cavalry. Unlike too many who enlist only in expectancy of a shoulder strap, the Major first entered the service of his country as a private in Capt. Justin's company. His patriotism has been suitably rewarded, and the office will be dignified by his acceptance.

☞ Capt. Conky, of Appleton, arrived here to-day with a company of over 60 men for Col. Barstow's cavalry. There are a sufficient number of enlistments to fill the company.

If you want to see a splendid assortment of SILVER GOODS call on (de1ld1m) WEBB & LEE.

The following is an extract of a private letter from a large manufacturer in England, received by the last steamer: "I again repeat, we want no cotton for at least six months. Our mills are many of them closed, and all others are on about half time, but nobody appears to want the produce of the mills. We have stacks of yarn and cloth, but find no customers. I believe if we did not have a loom at work during 1862, we should not consume half the stock now in the warehouses." It may also be a question whether, in case the want of cotton in England were ten times as pressing as it is, breaking the blockade, and taking up the cause of the rebels would be the way to get it.

DISCOVERIES IN CENTRAL AMERICA—AN INDIAN GOD AND A BURIED CITY.—While all the world is busy with the present, so big with great events, we have a select circle of gentlemen in Boston—the Ethnological Society—who have the taste and leisure for delving among the forgotten relics of the past.

At the last meeting of this society some interesting results of antiquarian research were presented.

From Central America came the report of the discovery by our minister at Guatemala, in the yard of his house, of an ancient Indian idol of stone, which had been there for two hundred years, where it was brought by the Indians from the ancient residence of the Quichean Kings, more than 150 miles distant over lofty mountains and through difficult and dangerous passes. For forty-six years it has been buried, to hide it from the Indians, who came by night to worship, until it was at last unearthed by our minister, Hon. Mr. Crosby. A more interesting discovery still is that reported to have been made in November, of the ruins of an immense city, buried in a dense forest, in the province Esquimitha, about fifty-six miles from Guatemala city, which is said to contain a very large number of fine specimens of sculpture. Of this we shall hear more hereafter.

SUSPENDED SPECIE PAYMENT.—L. Capron authorizes us to say that he has suspended specie payment and shut up shop. He has now gone to Janesville to enlist in Barstow's cavalry, and will return in a few days to settle up and pay fifty cents on the dollar—in "currency."—Milwaukee News.

Correspondence of the Daily Gazette.

From the Fourth Regiment.

CAMP PAINE, IN PATTERSON'S PARK }
Baltimore, Md., Jan. 1, 1862. }

I wish you and your readers a "Happy New Year." Contrary to our expectations when we encamped here, we are still in Baltimore. When we returned from Eastern Virginia, on the 7th of December, it was thought by all, officers as well as men, that we should make but a short stay in the "Monumental city." Whither we should go, no one pretended to know, but it was generally supposed that we should be ordered off in the next coasting expedition.—This supposition began to lose ground, as day after day we remained and no preparations were made for our departure. It was finally annihilated entirely, by an order from Gen. McClellan to Gen. Dix, in which he stated that the 4th Wisconsin would not be removed from this division, unless some unforseen exigency of war should demand it. Immediately on the receipt of this intelligence, preparations were made for the erection of barracks for our accommodation this winter. Carpenters were detailed who immediately commenced work, and now four large buildings, sufficient for the accommodation of the entire regiment, are in progress of completion, and nearly ready for occupation.

If we should remain here till the close of the war, our prospect of smelling gun-powder is scarcely better than it was in Wisconsin, as there is but little better show for a fight in this division, than there is in Janesville. This is the source of no little dissatisfaction, as Col. Paine has said that it was the height of his ambition to lead his regiment to battle, and I assure you nothing could give his men greater pleasure than to follow him to victory. But this is one of the inconveniences of war that must be endured. We can only hope that the "unforseen exigency" may arise, if it will give us an opportunity to test our rifled muskets on a rebel foe.

We are encamped in Patterson's Park, one of the public squares of the city. It is the site of a fortification erected during the last war with England. The old breastworks are in an excellent state of preservation, having been sacredly guarded by the park keeper, who was one of the "defenders" of Baltimore in 1812.

From the hill whereon we are encamped we have a fair view of Ft. McHenry across the Patapsco river, and further down the inlet, near the bay, can be seen the walls of Fort Carroll, a strong fortification commenced several years since, but still in an incomplete state. On Snake Hill, about half a mile from this point, is a battery, erected the past summer, and mounting 33 guns; and on Federal Hill, less than a mile westward from here is another fort still larger. Thus you will perceive that this portion of the city presents a decidedly military appearance. Indeed this city may be regarded as invincible against any force that Jeff. Davis, or even John Bull himself might be able to send against it.

By the by, the surrender of Mason and Slidell, produced not a little grumbling in this portion of the army, but it was finally accepted as a military necessity, and the demand was conceded to be characteristic of Johnny's bullying disposition, which on some future occasion, when we have less trouble at home to attend to, we may have the pleasure of humbling, as we have done on two former occasions.

Since we have been encamped here, we have on several occasions paraded through the streets of that portion of the city adjacent to our camp. On every occasion we have elicited the encomiums of the press, for our excellent drill and soldier-like appearance.

The weather here is delightfully mild.—It is difficult for a Wisconsin man to conceive that it is now midwinter. We have seen no snow in Maryland yet, though while we were in Virginia, sufficient fell one night to whiten the ground.

GUN.

The London Times hopes the American people will be honorable enough, even should a war ensue, to keep right along paying dividends to English capitalists who have invested in American securities.—There will be no obligation resting on our people to do so. The laws of war justify a suspension of payment so long as the war continues. But we can imagine a war with England, during the continuance of which there would be no wish to retaliate. It would not, however, be a war waged while our whole energies are employed in crushing out a wicked rebellion. If England shall meanly take advantage of our position to aid those we are seeking to punish, she and her people must expect neither forbearance nor courtesy.

McKEY & BRO'S JANUARY CIRCULAR

For 1862.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

To the People of

Janesville, Rock & adjoining Counties

McKey & Bro's MAMMOTH STORE

FULLY COMPLETED

and

READY FOR BUSINESS.

WE have now completed our new addition, making our store decidedly the largest business establishment west of New York city; size, 44 feet by 160, five stories high including basement. And in order to fill the same, we found it necessary in the early part of the season, to purchase ten times our usual amount of stock. Anticipating a still further advance on Foreign and Domestic goods, we made another extensive purchase immediately before the great and unprecedented advance which has taken place within the past two weeks. We have now in stock, at our different establishments, over $250,000 Worth of Merchandize!

Every single dollars worth of which was purchased before the advance, and in order to give our patrons a general benefit, we shall, for the

Next 20 Days, Sell at Retail Only,

the following goods at the prices mentioned, namely: Our entire stock of perfectly

FAST COLORED PRINTS

at 10 cents per yard. Let the people bear in mind that Prints have advanced in price 50 per cent; still we have concluded to close out the amount of our retail stock of Prints, being the very best brands in the market, at 10 Cents per Yard.

We have now on hand

10 Cases Madder Color Prints

suitable for bedding, which we will sell, for the next 20 days, at 16 yards for $1, worth this day in Chicago 10 cents per yard at wholesale. The above prices are for the retail trade exclusively.

5,000 Chenille Scarfs

at 12½ cents each.

Just received, five cases of plain, solid color

DE LAINES!

which we offer, for the next 20 days, at prices even lower than prints, namely: 12 yards for $1. Just imagine,

Eight Pence per Yard for DeLaines.

5,000 pieces fancy figured DeLaines, nice small patterns, of the very best printing, which we offer for the next 20 days, at one shilling per yard, or eight yards for $1, the same price as prints.

We would ask attention to the following: our entire stock of splendid

Manchester and Pacific DeLaines,

sold to-day in New York City at 25 cents, we now offer, for the next 20 days, at 1 shilling 6 pence per yard, or 10 yards for $1.88, which is the retail price of prints in many cities of this state to-day.

OUR MILLINERY DEPARTMENT

is well filled with a select stock of

Ribbons, Flowers, Plumes, Trimmings, &c.,

and presents great inducements to customers.

We call particular attention to our

Dress Goods Department.

Having purchased in the early part of December 5,000 pieces of different styles of Dress Goods, at the great closing auction sales of the season, from Wilderming, Hogart & Humbert, William Topping & Co., Wilderming & Mount, Hagarty & Co., Endrow, Jones & Co., and Lockwood Brothers, where no goods are sold but by the case, direct from the Importers. And having purchased exclusively for cash, enables us this day to offer to our customers some

as cheap as a common DeLaine, and in many cases as low as the present tariff prices. For instance, we now offer 100 pieces splendid Repps, ¾ yard wide at 2 shillings per yard, elegantly printed and of the most modern designs, and sold by us in the early part of the season at 50 cents per yard. We now offer, for the next 20 days, 100 pieces of double width Repps, sold by us last month at 63 cents per yard, now only 44 cents. All our

Mohair, Poplins, French Merinos, Plain Repps

and many other styles at an equal reduction. Our stock of

CLOAKS AND SHAWLS

is now much larger than at any time previous this season, and in order to close them out we offer the entire stock at a

GREAT REDUCTION,

from 20 to 40 per cent from last week's prices.

We have recently fitted up a spacious

Carpet Room

the entire length of our store, and filled it to its utmost capacity with a splendid stock of

Carpets and Oil Cloths,

purchased before the great advance on Woolens and Cottons.

OUR STOCK OF CLOTHING

is large and varied, and also comprises Hats, Caps, Furnishing Goods, Buffalo Robes, Furs, &c., all purchased previously to the great advance—yet, for the purpose of closing out the entire stock, we now offer it at a Great Reduction.

Garments Made and Cut to Order.

Hoop Skirts!

We call the particular attention of the ladies to our unequaled stock of Hoop Skirts, comprising the Belle Trail, Four Cord Diamond Skirts which we now offer at

FOUR CENTS PER ROW.

Also, the new Wove Tape Skirts with sealed tabs and patent fastenings, which we had made to order in New York city, and are warranted never to Get Out of Shape.

Also a large assortment of these much worn Balmoral Skirts, and very cheap.

IN CONCLUSION,

we beg leave to assure our customers that we will continue to do business upon the principle which has heretofore given such general satisfaction, and our store such wide-spread reputation. Make no purchases until you have paid a visit to our establishment, where you will find a greater variety, larger stock and

than any other store in this part of the world. Persons living at a distance, in the purchase of the small sum of five dollars, can make sufficient to pay the expense by coming to our store to trade, as from 25 to 50 per ct.

CAN BE SAVED

by purchasing at our house, in comparison to prices paid at country stores.

SECOND GREAT ARRIVAL

OF

Fall and Winter Goods!

AT THE

NEW AND POPULAR STORE

OF

RIORDAN & LEECH,

Main Street, Janesville.

OWING to the immense trade we have done since commencement in this city, (a trade which far exceeded our most sanguine expectations,) we have been enabled to add to our already well selected and extensive stock a still greater variety of

NEW AND DESIRABLE GOODS,

all of which have been purchased previous to the late advance, thereby giving us the advantage of merchants who have been obliged to pay a far higher rate for goods purchased within the past week or two; we shall therefore continue to sell at prices which are sure to give satisfaction, and which have given us the character of

The Cheapest Store in Janesville,

and which we are determined to maintain during our whole business career.

We call particular attention to our extensive variety of

DRESS GOODS,

comprising the latest styles in market: beautiful figured and plain Merinoes, all colors, Ottoman Repps, Silk Poplins, double width Broches, black and white check Valentias, Cordennas, Coburgs, &c., &c., together with an elegant assortment of

of the very richest styles.

SHAWLS AND CLOAKS.

In this department we have always been able to boast of the best selection in town and have added all the

Different Styles Lately Manufactured,

thereby enabling us to offer the

HANDSOMEST LOT OF CLOAKS

to be found in any city of the west, not even excepting Chicago. Our stock of

Broche, Square and Long Shawls

are cheaper than ever before offered in this city, being the importation of Thirion Mallaird & Co. and purchased at auction at about one half their actual value.

We have on hand an elegant variety of

FURS!

consisting of Fitch, French Cooney, Mink, &c., &c., with

MUFFS TO MATCH,

and which we offer

Twenty-Five Per Cent Lower

than any other establishment in this city, a fact fully admitted by all who have purchased of us. Our Furs are entirely new and warranted free from moths.

It is unnecessary for us to enumerate our stock.

Call, Examine and Judge for Yourselves.

We feel grateful for the extensive patronage bestowed on us and hope to merit its continuation.
